

ALLIES DRIVING HUN FROM BELGIUM

ENEMY RETREATING ON TREMENDOUS SCALE ALONG ENTIRE FRONT

BULLETIN

HAVRE, Oct. 16.—The Belgians have extended their battle front north of the Handzeeme canal, where they have made progress in the region of Schoor five miles from the North Sea southeast of Nieuport, and generally gained ground eastward as far as Coolschamp, according to the official communication issued tonight. The town of Iseghem, east of Roulers, has been captured.

WITH THE ALLIED ARMIES IN BELGIUM, Oct. 16.—The Germans have started a retreat on a tremendous scale from northern Belgium. French cavalry is approaching Thiet, seven miles from the banks of the Ghent-Bruges canal. The canal itself is only ten miles from the border of Holland. So fast is the enemy retreating that the French, British and Belgian infantry at least in the center of the battle front have lost touch entirely with the enemy. The Belgians advancing astride the Thourout-Bduges and Thourout-Ostend roads have defeated the Germans, who are retreating rapidly.

One of War's Greatest Victories

This undoubtedly is one of the war's greatest and most vital victories, for the gallant little Belgian army ably assisted by crack French and Belgian troops now has driven the despoilers of its country from a large section which the Germans have occupied since the early days of the war and has gained positions of such importance that the Germans may have to abandon the entire coast of Belgium. Moreover the sweeping advance of the allied infantry preceded by a fan of French cavalry advancing rapidly has left the entire area in which are the important city of Lille and the great mining and manufacturing districts of Tourcoing, Roubaix and Tournai in a salient which is growing deeper every hour and which the enemy cannot hope to hold. The French cavalry which is on the crest of the allied advance has done marvelous work. Today it galloped forward more than ten kilometers, frequently carrying out charges with a dash usually associated with cavalry upon isolated posts.

Enemy Offers Strong Resistance

Resistance where it has been offered by the enemy has been extraordinarily fierce for in these places it obviously has been the purpose of the commanders of the fleeing Germans to gain time in which to remove their materials. Stubborn fighting has been reported especially from the region of Thourout. The battle here has been from street to street and house to house and large numbers of the enemy have been killed. Some Belgian forces have swept around the city in order to cut the roads at the rear and also assist in bottling up the enemy trying to hold out in the city itself.

The Germans had placed machine guns in the windows of houses and cellars and fired murderous streams of bullets into the advancing Belgians, but were unable to stop them.

Belgians Fight Har.

The Belgians fought with a dogged determination such as only troops fighting to regain their outraged country could display. Nothing could stop the British following up the retreating Germans and overcoming the rear guard. They are reported as reaching Quenoy and as having captured Lille along the Lys. The Belgians at the time this dispatch was fired were reported to be still advancing.

Northeast of Courtrai, the Belgians were still going. The Lille position is most valuable for the place being northwest of the retreating German troops are gradually outflanking the entire Lille salient from which there are further signs that the enemy is withdrawing. As a matter of fact his troops in this salient are in an extremely precarious condition. They must get out rapidly or face disastrous consequences. A thousand more prisoners and many more cannons have been captured. The Germans at many places especially in the northern part of the battle area, seem to be surrendering freely. Many more civilians have been rescued from the towns and districts captured and little processions of these are struggling rearward out of range of the guns and out of the way of the fighting.

Belgians are being taken back how liberated Belgian women have seen their sons, brothers or husbands going forward into battle. Quite a number of civilians have been rescued from Roulers and its environs, the Germans having left left in such a hurry that they had not time to evacuate the civilians who wanted to stay and take a chance of being liberated. Today these men, women and children are again walking on the free soil of France. The Germans appear to be making strenuous efforts to save their munitions and equipment and their material, the accumulation of four years, from the coast districts of Belgium. The roads behind the Germans are littered with all sorts of transport and allied airplanes are playing havoc with the retreating army.

Plan Further Withdrawals.—There are many signs the Germans are further withdrawing in the face of the steady pressure of the allies. Great streams of enemy traffic began moving last night and continued today on the roads around Courtrai and Haubakke and on the railways northeast.

Trench mortars and direct machine gun fire are seriously hampering enemy transports' attempts to get material away thru the mud. In the southern battle area there has been minor fighting. More civilians have been rescued from towns, especially Husey. The British have established a bridgehead south of the Lys near Werwicosout. After fighting all night and smashing forward for 7,000 yards one British corps continued its advance until it reached the banks of the Lys south of Courtrai. Another established itself between Houlet and Courtrai. The village of Heetjen was captured after severe fighting in which the Germans suffered tremendous losses.

PLANS FRUSTRATED

Paris, Tuesday, Oct. 15.—When allied troops entered St. Quentin they found that every pillar in the cathedral there had been excavated to the level of the ground preparatory to placing explosives under them, according to the Liberte. The rapidity of the allied advance had prevented the Germans from carrying out their plan to destroy the edifice.

NAVAL AVIATOR MISSING.

Washington, Oct. 16.—Lieutenant Artemus L. Gates, naval aviator and former captain of the Yale football team is missing in action. The war department has asked for additional information.

General Antzinger's Kiev correspondent, Lenin received a bullet in the shoulder from a revolver in hands of M. Dwanitzke, of the information bureau of the soviet. Dwanitzke was arrested.

BILLION A DAY NEEDED TO PUSH OVER 4TH LOAN

Latest Figures from 12 Districts Show $3,269,001,500

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—In the face of figures still showing the fourth liberty loan only a little more than half raised—up to $3,269,001,500—the chief source of hope tonight lay in assurances of campaign managers for each of the twelve districts that their fields would prove up when final returns are counted. Supporting this attitude was the addition of $315,000,000 today to the total, the largest single day's subscription. This still left $2,730,000,000 to be gathered tomorrow, Friday and Saturday—three days—$900,000,000 a day. Officials do not expect that big rate to appear in official reports, at least until Saturday. They believe a billion or more will be counted up after the campaign has closed Saturday night from the flood of last minute subscriptions. But they fear that unless the unofficially tabulated total runs considerably above the four billions mark on the latest reports Saturday the loan may fail to reach its goal.

When the third loan campaign had but three days to run, official figures were $2,579,000,000 and increased to $3,006,000,000 by the final night. Post campaign tabulations added $1,171,000,000 making actual subscriptions $4,176,000,000. Official reports don't show any federal reserve district above 100 per cent but Minneapolis district managers, with a recognized showing of 80 per cent claim they have gathered enough pledges to put them over. The St. Louis district with 85 per cent still leads. New York, Atlanta and Philadelphia are lowest with percentages of 47, 42 and 42.

Showing by Districts.

District	Subscriptions	Pct.
St. Louis	$2,174,650	85
Minneapolis	1,682,155,950	80

Richmond	133,080,200	54
Kansas City	133,132,400	51
Cleveland	300,225,700	50
New York	847,520,000	47
Atlanta	81,319,400	42
Philadelphia	210,981,400	42

This was navy day in the campaign and on battleships and at land stations thruout the world, American sailors and naval officers turned in pledges of part of their small earnings to help pay the expenses of the war. Even without today's additions, the navy has already subscribed more than $22,000,000. Rear Admiral T. J. Cowie, navy liberty loan officer told Secretary McAdoo today. The secretary who has three sons in the navy, proceeded to "match the navy" with another $100 subscription for himself. He also issued a statement saying: "The American people should face this stupendous task with the spirit of the American navy in honor of which we have just celebrated navy day. On land and sea all over the world the men of the American navy do not regard this liberty loan merely as a campaign to raise money; they look upon it rather as a battle and a match the navy" with another $100 subscription for himself. He also issued a statement saying: "The American people should face this stupendous task with the spirit of the American navy in honor of which we have just celebrated navy day. On land and sea all over the world the men of the American navy do not regard this liberty loan merely as a campaign to raise money; they look upon it rather as a battle and a match the navy" with another $100 subscription for himself.

For the fighting men on land Brigadier General Lord, army liberty loan officer reported that soldiers, exclusive of the American expeditionary forces had bought $30,000,000 in bonds up to last Monday and Captain Robert W. Daniel, assistant army liberty loan officer estimated this would be raised to $45,000,000 by the end of the week.

War News Summary

News of Activities On Various Battle Fronts in Summarized Form By Associated Press.

Unconfirmed rumors say Germany has capitulated and Emperor William abdicated. The rumors emanated from Dutch and Swiss sources, but the German government has not officially informed either Washington or London of its intention to concede in their entirety conditions for cessation of hostilities as laid down by President Wilson.

Meanwhile hostilities are proceeding without cessation, and the allies everywhere are defeating the enemy. In Belgian Flanders, British, Belgian and French troops under King Albert are sweeping forward for further material gains in the process of driving the invader from Belgian soil. On the front in France the British, French and Americans are making progress, altho slowly, notwithstanding the strenuous defense that is being offered.

In Serbia and Albania entente troops are ridding invaded districts of the Austro-Hungarian and German contingents. In Albania being well north of Durazzo on the Adriatic sea and in Serbia considerably beyond Nish, with the enemy falling back toward the frontier of Austria-Hungary.

In Palestine British cavalry has driven far north and northwest of Damascus, having reached Tripoli, near the Mediterranean coast, 45 miles north of Beirut, and Homs, 55 miles north of Damascus. By this maneuver there seemingly is created for Ottoman forces the menace of again being caught between General Allenby's armies and crushed as was the case in the early days of the offensive north of Jerusalem. The maneuver also may forecast a new drive by the British from the Bagdad region to form a junction with General Allenby at Aleppo and thus take the Holy Land in its entirety from the Turks.

The wedge of the allies in Flanders is gradually being extended eastward all along the front on attack. Thourout, at the head of the railway leading to Bruges and numerous villages to the south have been taken, while Courtrai the junction point of the railway to Ghent, is almost entirely surrounded.

Large numbers of prisoners and many additional guns have been captured by the Belgian, French and British troops who are carrying out the operation.

To the south of this region the British continue successfully their maneuver which has as its main objective the capture of Douai and Lille and the blotting out of the big salient which is barring the way to Valenciennes and the German defense line in that vicinity.

The Germans are continuing to withdraw closely followed by the British who are within two and a half miles and three and three-quarter miles of Lille respectively southwest and west of the city.

In the Champagne region where the French and Americans are driving their way northward further good gains have been made, notwithstanding the furious efforts of the Germans to hold their line. Rethel the important junction point for the railways running to Mezieres and other points inside the enemy held territory is all but captured by the French. Eastward the Americans also have again pressed slightly forward.

Influenza Spread Among Civilians Still Unchecked

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—While Spanish influenza continues to spread among the civilian population generally continued decrease in new cases at army camps today led army medical officials to believe the crisis of the epidemic among the soldiers has been passed. Secretary Baker, in announcing the good reports, said they indicated measures taken by the surgeon general's office had brought the disease under definite control.

New cases of influenza among troops reported for 24 hours ending at noon today totaled 5,668 against 6,498 yesterday and against more than twice that number only a few days ago. Pneumonia cases today aggregated 1,895 compared with 1,916 the day before, and deaths were 710, a decrease of 179. Influenza cases reported from all camps since the beginning of the epidemic now total 262,186 pneumonia cases 39,276 and deaths 12,340.

The epidemic continues unabated in Washington and as a further step in the fight to control the disease the Red Cross today began distributing gauze masks. Many government clerks wore them on crowded street cars and at work, while they were in general use in barber shops and to a limited extent elsewhere. Deaths in Washington in the 24-hours ending at nine o'clock tonight number 87, a decrease of one from yesterday. New cases of influenza and pneumonia fell sharply today. The number reported being 332 in comparison with 1,433 yesterday.

PLACED UNDER $10,000 BOND.

New York, Oct. 16.—Allen R. Templeton, Frank W. Blair and Thomas P. Phillips, chief campaigners for Truman H. Newberry, U. S. N. R. Republican candidate for United States senator from Michigan, were held today by enforced detention here as witnesses in a federal investigation of expenditures of the Newberry committee, in the primary.

The three momentarily were remanded to custody of the United States marshal when writs of habeas corpus, under which they escaped jail confinement last Friday for refusal to answer questions before the grand jury were dismissed. However, Judge Clayton accepted their individual responsibilities to the extent of $10,000 to appear in court when summoned.

BAD WEATHER STOPS PROGRESS OF AMERICANS

Town of Grand Pre Now Occupied by Yankees

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY NORTHWEST OF VERDUN, Oct. 16.—(By the Associated Press.)—The American troops today occupied the town of Grand Pre on the north bank of the Aire river, north of the Argonne forest.

Since early last night rain has fallen over the entire field of combat, converting roads and trenches into muddy canals.

Aviation was impossible today and the artillery fire was directed entirely by maps, except in rare instances when direct fire was used. Grand Pre is only a village and its normal population is less than 1,500 but the place is of great strategic importance. It is the junction of the railways feeding a great part of the German army and lies at the foot of the valley extending northward at the entrance of which the Germans have fought so stubbornly.

After their long struggle for mastery in the Argonne woods the Americans moved several companies of infantry over the Aire river, which cuts across the northern end of the wood south of Grand Pre and under cover of heavy artillery fire moved, almost without stopping along the eastern flank of the position and into the town. On the western side the French have advanced along the roads, making possible a junction of the American first army and the French fourth army. There has been comparatively little fighting on the remainder of the American front, altho some progress has been made to the east of the Meuse. The German position along the American center has been subjected thruout the day to a steady harassing artillery fire supplemented by gas, but except for the capture of Lausard farm and minor movements, the infantry was not called into action.

French Make Slight Advance.

With the French Army on the Aisne, Oct. 16.—(By the Associated Press.)—2:30 p. m.—Favored by the bad weather and bad roads which are slowing up the advance of the allied supply trains the Germans appear to be disposed to make a stand, for the time at least, on the line from the region north of Sissonne to Rethel.

General DeBene's forces have made a slight advance west of Angoulcourt, passing the Serre and arriving before the marshes which the enemy is utilizing with the aid of a well sustained machine gun fire to stop their forward march. The German artillery has also increased its activity in this sector. North of Sissonne the French troops now are along the bank of the drainage canal which constitutes the advanced defense position prepared there as a secondary line of retirement from the Hindenburg line.

Further east the Germans supported by a violent artillery fire, counter-attacked the French troops under the command of General Guillaumat. The latter was of no avail. General Guillaumat's men maintaining their line a quarter of a mile east of the road from St. Germainmont to Gerzicourt.

General Gouraud took Acy, on the south bank of the Aisne southwest of Rethel. The Germans are shelling the rear areas all along the line and appear to be reinforcing their line strongly with machine guns.

Rumor That Kaiser Had Abdicated Denied

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—Tonight's news of Germany is everywhere here regarded as the shadow of great events being cast before them. News despatches this afternoon under an Amsterdam date line said the Nieuwe Rotterdamse Courant had issued a special edition in which the report was published that Germany had capitulated and Emperor William had abdicated. Another despatch under London date line quoted Reuters' Limited as reporting that the German reply to the president's recent note was expected to be communicated immediately and that it was likely to constitute a general acceptance of the conditions outlined by the president as precedent to peace. Reports also were received in London, despatches said, thru diplomatic channels from Holland that the German reply probably would be sent today and that it would be an acceptance of President Wilson's terms with some stipulation to the effect that the interests of the German people must be respected.

Later the Nieuwe Rotterdamse Courant withdrew its statement reporting capitulation and abdication of the kaiser while the British Official Press Bureau announced it had been officially informed that such rumors had no foundation in fact.

No Official Word. There is in Washington no official word that the kaiser has abdicated; or that he has been overthrown; or that Germany is ready to accept all of President Wilson's terms. Officials and diplomats regard with incredulous intimations that one or all of these things has happened. Most significant of all is the report from Holland, by way of London, that Germany will immediately reply to President Wilson accepting all his terms and asking only guarantees for interests of Germany and of the German people. When the reply does come, President Wilson's only course is to forward it to the co-belligerents. The guarantees for the interests of Germany and the German people do not intervene as an obstacle if guarantees are sought in sincere terms. If they are put forth as another vehicle for a quibble an opportunity of diplomatic evasion and trickery, or a negotiated peace they will meet only one reply.

If they mean guarantees for the integrity and sovereignty of Germany which is rightly German always taking in the determinations of the human beings concerned, no obstacle is foreseen. If they mean guarantees for the right of the German people to live their lives under a peaceful responsible government which does not menace the life of the world, President Wilson's utterances on the subject officials think already have given the answer. If Germany accepts all his terms and attaches the condition of such guarantees it is considered that hardly less could be expected of her. Guarantees for the interests of Germany involving only Germans it was pointed out are quite apart from the self-determination of the oppressed nationalities in Austria for which President Wilson has pledged the peace to secure development. There always is the possibility that the conditions President Wilson has laid down as the basis for a peace already have come about in Germany. Diplomats noticed that Chancellor Maximilian sent a note and that when the president answered with an inquiry it was foreign Secretary Solf, and not the chancellor who replied and that Solf spoke of the new government which had been

A PROPHETIC EDITORIAL.

The European edition of The New York Herald, published in Paris a month ago, contains a prophetic editorial, the substance of which makes interesting reading in view of what has since occurred.

Kaiser Wilhelm's speech on the thirtieth anniversary of his accession to the throne is the subject of the editorial. That speech is contrasted with recently uttered pronouncements from the Kaiser, in which he masqueraded as an advocate of peace. After calling attention to the sabre-rattling in which he indulged in June, it says:

"He is no longer the awe-inspiring war lord, but is only 'the father of his people,' heartbroken over their sufferings and the wicked determination of the Allies. Their victories have transformed the raging tiger into the bleating lamb. The German respects force, and in that detail the Kaiser is a true German—a bully in success, a cringing hypocrite in adversity. 'My nephew William,' once said Edward VII, 'is a tricky poltroon.' Poltroony and trickiness both are revealed in his latest speech; he fears the consequences of his crime, and is trying to propitiate the subjects whom he has driven into despair."

"His account with them, however, is their affair and his. We are concerned only in bringing him to book. The sole way to do it is to strike at Germany with our whole strength, and in every conceivable way. The whining appeal of the Kaiser is the best possible indication that we are on the right road. It is fear that has changed the Kaiser. 'Don't shoot! I'm coming down!' The moment the shooting begins in earnest the Kaiser climbs down. But nothing can save him."

LEAVES AS FERTILIZERS.

"Leaves are a heritage to Mother Earth. Let them be used as God intended. Why burn them?"

With the foregoing as a concluding sentiment, the state department of public welfare has just issued a statement announcing that the value of the crops from institutions for the calendar year 1918 is estimated at $780,000 the result of intensive agriculture, part of which has been the saving of leaves for fertilizer.

"Burning leaves is robbing the soil of something that can be put back representing millions of dollars in value to the people," says the statement. "High prices due to the war have caused the twenty-three state institutions under the department of public welfare to save wherever possible and a strenuous effort has been made to increase the yield of their farms and gardens."

"In certain of our institutions the saving of leaves started a year ago and this year all of them have been instructed to do likewise. As a result the farm and garden production last year has been greatly increased."

"The farms consists of about 10,000 acres of land. For the three past fiscal years ending June 30, the yield from the farms, gardens and dairies was: for 1916, $330,000; for 1917, $390,000, and for 1918, $549,000."

"It is estimated that the crops for this year up to December 31, 1918, including those unharvested, will amount to at least $780,000."

"This tremendous crop is not only due to the favorable season, but to the work of the state authorities in conserving the fertility of the land."

FEDERATION OF LABOR.

John H. Walker, president of the Illinois Federation of Labor, will not be a candidate for reelection in December when elections of the state labor body vote on officers for the coming year. Mr. Walker announced that he will make the race again for president of the United Mine Workers of America. He was defeated for the place two years ago by John P. White, now engaged in work for the Federal fuel administration. Opposite Walker for the presidency of the U. M. W. of America will be Frank J. Hayes of Indianapolis, incumbent, who assumed the duties of office when President White resigned to serve as an aid to the government. After the state convention of the Illinois Federation October 21, at Bloomington, ballots will be sent out and the election will be conducted by mail. Ballots must be returned by December 15, and officers will enter upon their work January 1.

Other candidates, nominated by mailed ballots, for president are John B. McGrath and Duncan McDonald of Springfield, Frank L. Mercer of Canton, Matthew Woll of Chicago and Paul J. Smith of southern Illinois. McGrath has declined, however, to run for president and will be a candidate for vice president.

Robert Fitchie of the milk wagon drivers of Chicago also is a candidate for vice president.

Among the principal remaining nominees are the following: Second vice president—E. Carbine, Chicago.

Third vice president—Michael J. Whalen, East St. Louis, and Henry Colder, Peoria.

Fourth vice president—Thomas Kelly, Streator; Henry Bogaske, Springfield.

Fifth vice president—Joseph W. Morton, Chicago.

Sixth vice president—Al Towers, Belleville; Henry Mueller, Danville.

Seventh vice president—Emil Reinhold, Decatur; Tim Pell, Joliet.

Eighth vice president—George L. Hankins, Champaign; James Connors, Chicago; George B. Jenkins, Urbana.

Ninth vice president—Waldo Cross, Decatur; H. C. Maddox, Alton.

Ninth vice presidents compose the executive board of the federation.

Three auditors are to be elected and there were seventy-four candidates nominated. Of this number the trio receiving the largest number of votes follows: William Jampel, Belleville; Jerry Kain, Chicago, and Tilden Bozarth.

Three tellers also will be named of which there were 100 nominations. Those polling the highest vote among the first three were as follows: F. Bernard, Westville; Agnes Johnson, Chicago, and Peter Zink, Belleville.

AT CHATEAU "HIERREY."

An Illinois tank driver at Chateau Thierry who in his tank had been chasing Hunns over hills and valleys across creeks and forests and thru shell holes and towns said he rather enjoyed the work as it reminded him of the highways back home in Illinois. Why not start paying the Illinois highways before our boys come home? After marching over the magnificent country roads of France our boys will not be content to travel our prairie mud roads.

The Sixty Million Dollar Bond issue for Road Improvement will give Illinois a state-wide system of hard roads entering every county and touching all important towns within five years after the close of the war without a penny of taxation. Auto license fees will pay the bill and there will be enough money collected from auto owners to do it easily and then some.

Vote Yes on the Little Road Improvement Ballot on Nov. 5. If you fail to mark the little ballot yes, you will be counted as voting against the improvement.

Mass Meeting in Belleville, Illinois. Speeches by Lieutenant Governor Hoffman and Major Stevenson.

Rippling Rhymes By Walk Mason

Two Generals.

"Confound that Foch!" sighs Ludendorff. "I was a giant till he came, and made me seem a sawed-off dwarf; he's cooked my goose and spoiled my frame. I was a giant, fair to see, a man colossal, brave and strong; the German people looked on me, as one who could do nothing wrong. 'While Ludendorff's on deck,' they said, 'we cannot fail of winning out, so we shall calmly go ahead and do our chores, and eat our krait.' I was invincible, men thought, the Postdam bunch and all the rest, and even Kaiser Wilhelm brought a wreath and pinned it on my vest. And while the Allies plugged away, each for himself, without a chief, I had a triumph every day, and side-stepped many kinds of grief. But now that Foch is in command, my goat has wandered far from me, in vain were all the plans I've planned, in vain is all my strategy. My big campaign is now a wreck. I've said to all my hopes good bye, today Foch hits me in the neck, tomorrow he will black my eye. He takes a thousand miles of soil, ten thousand prisoners he takes, he swags me on my sacred soil, and then our collarbone he breaks. Six months ago, as you'll agree, I bulked much larger than a prince; but since this Foch mixed up with me, I feel much smaller than a quince."

OUR DUTY

"But we now have a greater effort to make. Our largest war loan has been launched. It will tax our determination to defend our liberty and our republic at all costs. Our armies in the field are fighting victoriously. The forces at home are now in an offensive that must not fail. 'Without stint or limit' let us buy literally of bonds that we may attain our objective, a righteous and lasting world peace."

SOLDIER IS GRATEFUL FOR BOY'S LETTER

More than a year ago Frank Hobbs of 352 West Court street wrote a letter to "A Soldier Boy in France" and in a package of envelopes which he donated to the Red Cross for the men "over there." He is just in receipt of a letter from Private Boyd R. Ringo, who is with the medical department, base hospital No. 25, in France, acknowledging the receipt of the letter. The following is the soldier's letter:

Aug. 26, 1918.

Dear Little Friend: By chance I received a letter from you today. On Oct. 12, 1917, you wrote a short letter to a "Soldier Boy in France" and I happen to be the lucky soldier to receive that letter in a package of envelopes given me by the Red Cross. I take great pleasure in writing to you, little friend, and to think that you are so interested in Uncle Sam's boys across the sea. Also I am more than glad to hear that you are a member of the Boy Scouts of America. It is a great organization and they are doing a fine work for Uncle Sam.

If I hadn't received your package of envelopes today I would not have been able to write to my dear father and mother this evening. Therefore you see, Master Frank, you helped me and also made my father and mother happy at the same time. I am a young man of 21 years and am serving my country by caring for the wounded in the big base hospitals. My home is in Cincinnati, Ohio.

Well, I will close for tonight and I hope you will write often. I will write to you again some day.

Your very grateful soldier,

Boyd R. Ringo.

GOOD USE OF LAUNDRY FUND

Help the Passavant Hospital Laundry Benefit Now.

The faithful workers' for the Passavant hospital laundry fund have accumulated $300, which they have invested in Liberty Bonds and will make what interest they can hoping the principal will soon be called for to put into a new building.

Remember this is a county affair as well as a city; it is for us all both in Morgan and adjoining counties and deserves the assistance and support of every one. Donations of any kind of farm produce or goods of any sort will be thankfully received.

The sales room will be open the remaining evenings of this week. Call and add you note.

APPEAL CASE FROM JUSTICE COURT

An appeal set by Thomas P. Reep, an attorney of Petersburg, against J. W. Ward was filed with Circuit Clerk Boston yesterday. The suit is on wherein Reep claims that the Ward collection agency engaged him to collect a bill. Mr. Reep alleges that afterward Mr. Ward collected the bill and failed to pay him his fee which he said was fixed at $50. The case was called before Justice Bayha and a change of venue taken to Justice Coons. Justice Coons decided against Mr. Reep and he took an appeal.

Still a Virile Enemy

Germany is still a virile, cunning and desperately determined foe. Having abandoned now her dreams of world conquest, she will fight the more viciously for a favorable peace.

She will not yield up the unconditional surrender the allies will demand until her armies have been absolutely ground beneath the allied armies' heels. Marshal Foch and General March tell us that this cannot come to pass until America has swelled its armies in France to the four or five millions planned for next spring.

The present is no time for America to sit back in complacent laziness and neglect the most vigorous prosecution of every detail of the war.

The Fourth Liberty Loan must not only be subscribed — it must be substantially oversubscribed that Germany may read that America is still ruthless in its determination to wipe out all militaristic dreams of a German overlordship of the world.

Have YOU gone YOUR limit in the subscription to Fourth Liberty Loan Bonds?

ROY CRAIG HAS FRACTURED ARM.

Roy Craig suffered a fracture to the right forearm and a badly bruised leg when he was knocked down by an automobile near Macon a few days ago. Mr. Craig who is a representative of the International company had taken a truck out to show it to a prospective customer. He had stopped to talk with a man operating a tractor. Just as he stepped out from behind the tractor to go to his truck a passing automobile struck him with the rear end as above indicated. Mr. Craig is sore from his experience but thankful that it was no worse. He will be kept from work for several weeks.

THE INFLUENZA IN THE COUNTY

What the Dread Disease is Doing in the Various Towns; Worst in Chapin.

A careful inquiry was made by the Journal yesterday to ascertain the condition of each town in the county and vicinity in the matter of influenza and the result as better than might be expected.

Chapin seems to be the worst sufferer. The first case appeared in the Flynn family the 5th of the month and eight were down with it, the father alone being spared. The others have measurably recovered and now the father is down. The schools and churches were ordered closed the 10th and all possible precaution is being taken. From 75 to 100 cases have been reported but so far all seem to be comparatively light and no cases of typhoid or pneumonia are mentioned.

Litterberry has six cases but none serious.

Arcadia has escaped so far. Exeter has one case; young Brackett who took it in Quincy.

Franklin has a few light cases, one a daughter of W. C. Calhoun; no cases of pneumonia reported. Murrayville reports a small number of cases, and none of pneumonia thus far. Schools and churches closed.

Sinclair proper reports no cases. The nearest was Jed Cox but he would hardly be regarded as of Sinclair.

Alexander has few cases and none serious reported. Woodson has few cases but no pneumonia.

Waverly. Dr. Crum was in the city yesterday and said there were fifteen cases so far and one of pneumonia and that would likely not prove fatal. Schools and churches have been closed. Concord has a good many cases but not so badly as Chapin.

WOODSON ELEVATOR

The members of the Woodson Farmer's Elevator Co. held a meeting at Woodson Monday afternoon. Owing to the influenza scare the session was held in the open air.

A seven per cent dividend which had been declared at a previous meeting was distributed among the stockholders. The elevator has been in operation six months. The directors decided on a rebate of three per cent on wheat, but are awaiting a decision by the federal government before making payments.

The company has had a very successful business under the management of H. J. Hagan, and the stockholders extended a vote of thanks to the directors and managers for the efficient way in which the business has been handled. The manager was also given a substantial increase in salary.

The following directors were re-elected:

C. E. Reynolds.

P. J. Woulfe.

Fred J. Schellfield.

The directors at a previous meeting had elected H. J. Hagan as manager for the coming year.

MEETINGS POSTPONED

The third annual conference of the Illinois Typographical union, to have been held in Bloomington Oct. 18 and 19, has been postponed until further notice, owing to regulations made to prevent the spread of Spanish influenza. Also the meeting of the Illinois Federation of Labor to have been held in Bloomington week of Oct. 21, is postponed for the same reason.

FUNERAL NOTICE.

The body of Orgus Briggs, who passed away recently at Camp Upton, N. Y., arrived in Beardstown at 8:20 Wednesday evening, from where it was taken to Chapin by auto. Funeral services will be held at the Christian church at two o'clock this afternoon. Burial will be made at Concord.

Secretary McAdoo called for a loan of $6,000,000,000. These funds are essential to the prompt winning of the war. A delay will prolong it, cause needless loss of life and unnecessary suffering — it may seriously endanger the plans of the Allies.

Are we prepared to answer for that — to shoulder such terrible responsibility? We think not.

This district has subscribed about 70% of its quota. It will go "over the top." Let's hurry it. Only a few days left.

Even though fighting ceased now, Uncle Sam would need this money. There still would be left a vast amount of work to be done. Don't allow unauthorized peace talk to deter you in making the loan asked.

SPANISH INFLUENZA

This Disease is LaGrippe and is the Same That Swept the World in 1889 and 1891.

Most of the cases are ushered in like a bad cold, with headache, pains all over the body, chill, reddened eyes, dizziness, occasionally vomiting and the most noticeable feature is the depression and the marked prostration.

The disease is conveyed by the secretions of the nose and mouth, and those who are careless in coughing and sneezing, can convey it to any one they come in contact with.

Rules for Its Prevention

And Which it is Urged That You Follow:

If you are taken sick suddenly, do not wait for severe symptoms, but call a physician immediately, as the disease may become serious in a short space of time.

Keep away from those who have bad colds.

Cover your mouth and nose when you cough or sneeze, as coughing or sneezing, except behind a handkerchief, is a great sanitary offense.

Keep your living room well ventilated.

Keep the room where you work full of fresh air.

Keep the children who have a bad cold away from school or public gatherings.

Spend all the time you can out of doors.

Keep your body in a healthy condition.

Do not neglect what you call a bad cold.

Keep your home and premises clean and see that the streets and alleys in your neighborhood are in a sani-itary condition.

If reasonable care is exercised, and an endeavor made to keep mentally calm at this time, there is no reason to expect a serious spread of the trouble.

OLD JACKSONVILLE

CAPT. SAMUEL HUNT

By Ensley Moore

(Member Illinois State Historical Society)

There are many names known to the older people of prominent citizens in the early days of whom the present generation is nearly all ignorant. Samuel Hunt may be among the number.

Mr. Hunt was born somewhere about Frankfort, Ky., at least he is said to have come from there,
where it is supposed he was born, about 1805. He appears to have come here about 1836. Surely he belonged to the Fire company of 1840.

His wife was a Miss Frazer,

also from Old Kentucky.

They were the parents of:

Amanda, who married Robert

Megowan. They were the parents of Joseph and Fannie Mcgowan.

Mary, who married John D.

Strong. They had two sons, Henry and Lewis.

William E., who married Jane

V. Culbertson. They were the parents of Samuel Culbertson

Hunt and Alex Palmer Hunt.

Lonie, who first married a Mr.

Popple, they had a daughter Fannie. Mr. Popple died, and his widow married Frank Robinson.

Henry W., who married a daughter of Samuel Cobbs, the carriage builder. Mrs. Hunt died, and Henry married a Kentucky lady, and they were the parents of a son, Harry, and two girls.

Aster Henry died his wife and family went to Kentucky.

Capt. Samuel Hunt was a tailor,

as was his son William E. Capt.

Samuel got into public office, and dropped his shears, and neal-ly pretty soon. He was one of the first board of trustees of the Illinois Institution for the Education of the Blind, in 1849. About that time he became keeper of the Morgan county jail, then located on the west side of North Main street, second building south of North street. He had his residence for some years at the southwest corner of Main and North streets. This jail was erected in 1833. A new one was arranged for in 1864, and was built at the northeast corner of South Main street and College avenue. Capt.

Hunt was the first one in charge of that.

That was not especially sought out by Capt. Hunt's friends, but he acquired another office which was much more popular, for he was made Post Master—presumably by President Buchanan—and nearly everybody persisted in calling upon him. Another day was coming, however, and when Mr.

Lincoln came into power the Post Office was lost to Mr. Hunt. But it did not get very far away from the old man, for his son-in-law,

John D. Strong, got it. As nearly as can be determined by the writer, Capt. Hunt died about 1869 or 1870, and was buried in the East cemetery.

The Megowans.

Robert H. Megowan became Mr.

Hunt's assistant in the Post Office and proved to be a valued and efficient helper there. His son

Joseph is still a resident here.

The Strong's.

John D. Strong was a graduate of Illinois College in 1854, and became a teacher in the School for the Blind. He then took the Post Office, from 1861 to 1866, about which time he became private secretary to United States Senator

Richard Yates, serving thru Mr.

Yates' term in 1871. Mr. Strong studied law and went to St.

Joseph, Missouri, and entered upon the practice of his profession, in which he is understood to have been quite successful. He was a Solicitor for the Santa Fe R. R.

Politically, Mr. Strong was a very pronounced Republican, as were all his family, except his youngest brother, Charles, now residing in Hannibal, Mo.

Mr. Strong died only a few years ago. In this connection it may be said that all the children of Capt. Hunt are now dead, except Mrs. Robinson.

William E. Hunt.

Wm. E., familiarly known as

"Bub" Hunt, was born in Kentucky, being only about two to four years of age when the family came here. As stated above, he learned to be a tailor, but never seems to have spent much time in that trade. He was a clerk in the Post Office for some years, and enlisted and served in the first three months of the Civil war, in the 10th Illinois Infantry. Soon after this, he went overland, by wagon, to California, where he remained until about 1865, when he returned to this city and remained, except possibly for a short time in Peoria. As stated above, Mr. Hunt married Miss

Janie V. Culbertson, and it goes without saying that her father was a Scotchman. Wm. E. Hunt

died August 26, 1886.

A romantic story.

Janie V. Culbertson was the daughter of Major Alexander Culbertson of the United States Army and his wife, who was a Sioux

Indian. The Major established the posts at Ft. Benton and Ft.

Buford, in Montana, up on the head waters of the Missouri river.

He retired on age from the army, and was engaged in the fur trade with the American Fur Co., was of the firm of Chouteau and Culbertson, and acquired quite a for-fortune. In the "Story of the States," published serially in Pearson's Magazine, in the number for April, 1902, Montana was treated of, and the following mention was made of Major Culbertson. "The famous Fort Benton was built by Alexander Culbertson in 1846."

Fort Benton is now a good sized town, and another town is named

Culbertson.

Major Culbertson had the good sense to have his daughters educated and sent all of them to the Catholic convent in St. Louis, Mrs.

Hunt being one of the number.

She was born at Fort Benton, and,

at the time she came to school it was a hazardous and wonderful trip down and back up the great

Missouri. The family afterwards lived at Peoria, this state, where Major Culbertson had a farm and a home residence on the West Bank.

There were three girls and two boys in Major Culbertson's family. One of Mrs. Hunt's sisters married Mr. Roberts, who was

Attorney-General of Nebraska, and of Idaho, his present residence.

Mrs. Hunt died about 1906, being about sixty five years of age.

When she came here, as a bride, about 1844, Mrs. Hunt was a very pretty and graceful young woman.

When the Northern Pacific

Railway was being built thru

Montana Major Culbertson's services as an interpreter were in much demand, and he was able to arrange matters between the Indians and the road builders.

About that time, he took a delegation of the Red Men to Washington City to talk matters over,

and the party stopped on its way home at the old Metropolitan hotel on East North street, near the Junction. This was about 1875.

Major Culbertson died in the state of Nebraska, about 1880, being quite an old man.

Things were very lively during the settlement of Montana, and it required nerve on the part of any one to make good there.

The Fire Chief.

From this union of Kentucky,

Scotch and Indian blood, Samuel

Culbertson Hunt was born, and the strength of such a lineage shows in the present Chief of our Fire Department. It is only his age, however, about fifty two years, that keeps him here—out

NEWS FROM GERMANY AWAITED WITH INTEREST

formed in Germany. It would not be without precedent if the peace party in Germany actually was in possession of an imperial rescript or other secret act renouncing the power of the kaiser and his party when the reply to President Wilson's inquiry was sent. It would not be without precedent if the negotiation was begun with a maneuver for the best possible terms and holding back the last card—the downfall of kaiserism.

No Mixed Commission.
If the pre-requisites for an armistice are accepted the arrangements will be made not by a mixed commission but by the German and the allied commanders. These as has been pointed out with all the means of taking from Germany every agency with which she could break her word is the world; occupation by Allied forces of such places as Strassburg, Metz and Coblenz, turning over to the Allies of her submarines, with the recall of her submarines which would be a disaster to her and ready to do and the surrender of the war, undoubtedly also the cities by which others might be induced and probably the employment of the great war machine plants of Germany to repair the industrial damage done in Belgium and France. Seeing is believing one official declared tonight and there will be no second paper.

The chief questions in the minds of public men tonight are, is the German military power really so broken so as to be ready to accept these terms and the query, "what has become of the kaiser?"

The president was reading the latest despatches tonight making no comments and other officials were doing the same.

The official air was surcharged with expectancy but it was the expectancy which would not be surprised if Germany rallied to go on for a while longer and made another attempt to save something from the wreckage.

There were no official indications of whether the German reply had been stated for Washington, if indeed it has been decided upon.

FOREST FIRES BREAK OUT IN NEW SECTIONS

Menacing Grass Fire Started at Federal Dam on the Cloquet River—Other Places in Danger.

Duluth, Minn., Oct. 16.—Menacing forest and grass fires have developed through the burned-over northwest district and in new sections tonight according to reports received here. A grass fire has started at the federal dam on the Cloquet river about forty miles northwest of this place and is burning near that settlement. Workmen are endeavoring to save the place and at midnight had forced back what was considered the worst of the fire and prevented the region from being flooded.

Cass Lake and Bemidji are in immediate danger from fires which have developed in that district this afternoon and early tonight. All the available men are out fighting the fire and are believed to have it under control. Latest reports from the McGrath district are that the town is threatened with destruction. Minneapolis, St. Paul and Sault Ste. Marie railroad trains are standing by ready to take all in the fire stricken districts to safety.

During the night a heavy breeze has developed from the east which brings a promise of rain but in the meantime is spreading the fires which have been smoldering since flames fanned by a sixty mile gale swept over northeastern Minnesota Sunday. Forewarned by the great loss there three days ago which is as yet only partly known, residents of the districts threatened tonight are ready to move at a moment's notice.

PEOPLE URGED TO BUY LIBERTY BONDS

State Council of Defense Sends Special Plea—Judge Thompson Adds Appeal to Loyalty.

The state council of defense in a pointed way is calling upon Morgan county people to come forward with renewed enthusiasm for the fourth Liberty loan. Only three days remain for the completion of the campaign. The patriotism of the people will be measured by the success of this loan. The letter from the state council of defense, together with a statement by Judge Owen P. Thompson, chairman of the executive committee of the Morgan county committee of the state council of defense, follows:

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 15, 1918. Judge O. P. Thompson, Jacksonville, Ill.

It is of primary importance that the receipt of the German note should not in any way result in the slowing down of our war activities, particularly in our support of the Liberty Loan. Will you, therefore, immediately call the attention of all members of your county committees of the State Council of Defense to the absolute necessity of supporting this loan and of continuing all other war activities with unabated zeal. Do not cease work when you have reached your county quota. Large over-subscription absolutely necessary. Secretary of War Baker states that our war program will be pushed as vigorously as possible. Failure to fully subscribe the Liberty Loan might easily cheat us of the full fruits of victory.

Samuel Insull, Chairman State Council of Defense.

The urgency of this call for extra effort on the part of Morgan county people should be met by more general and liberal subscriptions. Morgan county is furnishing its full quota of men to the service. We should furnish money as freely and liberally as we offer our boys. If we send our boys, we must send money to support them on the seas, and in camp, field and hospital. All committees are called to renewed and increased activity for Liberty Loan subscriptions.

SEEK PERMIT TO BUILD MONUMENT

Local Board Chairman Believes Patriotism Demands That Work Proceed on Memorial.

The question of monument or no monument for this year again came into the limelight yesterday. The recent government committee ruling that it was improper to use concrete for the monument was the occasion of a great deal of disappointment to old soldiers, who have all along been so keenly interested in the erection of the monument in Central Park.

The matter was brought yesterday to the attention of Miller Weir, chairman of the local exemption board, and he at once took the position that it would be very unfortunate indeed to have the announcement made at this time that the government was unwilling to permit the use of materials for a monument in honor of soldiers past and present. Mr. Weir believes that such action would be decidedly unpatriotic, especially at this time when the government is making preparations for calling out 250,000 soldiers a month. While the first call may be deferred temporarily, the local board is expecting soon to have between 600 and 700 men certified for army service. Deferring the call simply means that they will be consolidated and that as soon as health conditions become normal that heavy calls will be made upon the county.

With this view of the situation Mr. Weir went actively to work and called the matter to the attention of the local committee on building permits.

W. Barr Brown, W. A. Jenkinson and F. H. Rowe and Judge O. P. Thompson of the state council of defense. As a result the question was submitted with all the facts to Samuel Insull, chairman of the state council of defense.

Mr. Weir believes the effort on the general public would be very unfortunate if it were understood that the government objected to honoring soldiers by this monument, especially since some of the preparations have been so long under way and the memorial is for the soldiers of all wars. It is his business and that of other members of the local board to see that nothing is done which will in any way interfere with local board operation or general affairs under the selective draft action. A favorable action on the part of the state council of defense is confidently anticipated.

DISHEARTENED GERMANY
No more disheartening news can reach the German people than that of Americas over-subscription to the Fourth Liberty Loan. Germany knows already that with the six billions asked for, the United States will be ready to send an army of five million men into France by June next. And Germany knows what that will mean in the question of the end of the war.

Now is the opportunity of every individual stay-at-home to make his service toward winning the war count 100 per cent plus. There must be no laggards in the great business which is before us.

What is Rheumatism?

Why Suffer from It?

Sufferers Should Realize That It is a Blood Infection and Can Be Permanently Relieved

Rheumatism means that the blood has become saturated with uric acid poison.

It does not require medical advice to know that good health is absolutely dependent upon pure blood. When the muscles and joints become sore and drawn with rheumatism, it is not a wise thing to take a little salve and by rubbing it on the sore spot, expect to get rid of your rheumatism. You must go deeper than that, down deep into the blood, where the poison lurks and which is not effected by salves and ointments.

It is important that you rid yourself of this terrible disease before it goes too far. S. S. FUNERAL SERVICES HELD FOR MRS. BANCROFT Large Gathering of Friends Wednesday Afternoon—Rev. James Smith and Dr. F. S. Hayden in Charge.

The funeral services held Wednesday afternoon in memory of Mrs. Elizabeth Bancroft were of a dignity and solemnity entirely in keeping with her life and character. There was a large assemblage of friends at the home which she had graced for more than sixty years, gathered to pay honor to her memory. The sadness of the hour was greatly relieved for relatives and friends by the knowledge that the end of life had come to Mrs. Bancroft after many, many years of useful service, far more than the average allotment. They did not mourn as those who are without hope, knowing as they did that the righteousness of her life gave promise of that life to come.

It was fitting indeed, that the final words should be spoken by Rev. James Smith, son of an early and long time friend, and that a former pastor, Dr. F. S. Hayden, should also have part in the service. Mrs. H. C. Woltman, with Mrs. C. A. Johnson as accompanist, sang "O Perfect Day," "Jesus, Savior Pilot Me" and at the close of the service "How Firm a Foundation." These hymns were chosen because thru all the long years they have been favorites of Mrs. Bancroft and have lightened her in various times of stress.

As a part of the service a brief letter was read from Dr. R. O. Post, who as pastor of the Congregational church here, had come into an intimate appreciation of Mrs. Bancroft's life and worth. The floral remembrances, which were especially beautiful, were cared for by Mrs. George Hollinger, Mrs. Constance B. Smith, Mrs. George Myers and Mrs. Harriett Lander. The cortege moved from the residence to Diamond Grove cemetery, where Rev. Mr. Smith read passages of scripture and Dr. Hayden gave the closing prayer. As a part of the service Rev. Mr. Smith in a very impressive way read the verses of two hymns, the first bringing comfort for the hour as they turned thought toward "the tomorrow."

The bearers were Messrs. Charles A. Johnson, Charles Hall, J. Allerton Palmer, A. B. Williamson, George Hollinger, Alton M. King, Harrison King and J. W. Walton. Rev. Mr. Smith spoke with evident feeling, for he recalled that Mrs. Bancroft had been unusually kind to him in the days of his boyhood and had manifested a motherly interest in his life and welfare. The minister read the 23rd Psalm, the familiar verses of the 14th chapter of John and from the 13th

Thessalonians, 4th chapter, 13th to 18th verses. "Into the presence of the King this saint has gone," said the minister. "For death means but the ushering in to the glory of the celestial city, for the chosen of the Lord. They go to that city where there is no death, no night, no parting and where tears are all wiped away. A saint of God lay dying and when his friends reminded him that his final hour had come, he said: 'Is this death? No, this is heaven.' And still another saint as he was about to enter the portals declared, 'This indeed is my coronation day.'"

"It is strange that we sorrow at such an occasion as this, since we know the answer to the old question, 'If a man die, shall he live again?' We know that those who do live rightly and walk justly do live again and that eternal hope would come to our hearts to lighten them. Then this song we have heard, 'Jesus Savior Pilot Me,' as we think of its words, has all of the essentials of the Christian life in it. Jesus' Savior Pilot Me,' no wonder Mrs. Bancroft loved it! No wonder that as she dwelt upon its promises she rejoiced all along life's journey. She knew in truth that Jesus can be lifesaver pilot. She was calm in exterior but yet we know that she met many of the trials that are the common lot of mankind.

"And now let us consider a second text, 2nd Corinthians 5:1. 'For we know that if this earthly house of this tabernacle be dissolved we have a building of God, a house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens.' Science tells us nothing about life. Those who rest only upon science have no hope to buoy them up. But we can find strength for the present and promises for the future in the words that I have read. This woman, strong and graceful in her life, was not a Christian of the negative type. She sat here in her home in the strength of her womanhood and intellect, even in these latter years, and delighted to talk of things eternal and of the Christ she had known intimately. She could say 'I know Him in Whom I have believed, and am persuaded that He is able to keep that which I have committed unto Him against that day.' So our friend believed most firmly in the certainty of the after life and realized that there is a house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens.

"One of the sweetest things in all my life is the knowledge that she was my friend. The thought comes to me constantly as a kindly influence that when I was a lad her hand was upon my head to give me cheer and encouragement, and today it is indeed an honor to stand by her casket and pay my tribute to the strength and beauty of her character.

"So today I would refer to her life as a light. We might talk today about the tragedies of the world and the evil that men do and how light is needed. We know that men love darkness rather than light because their deeds are evil and so light typifies that which is good and helpful. Not long ago I stood at Point Furman on the Pacific coast. There was a great light house there and I asked the captain in charge of it what would happen if he were to fail for one night to have the light burning. Quickly his reply came: 'If that light did not burn even for one night the shipping of all nations of the world would be damaged.'"

"As we think of the influence of that light that light that just one night, how can we measure the influence of this light, for Mrs. Bancroft lived in this home for sixty two years, spreading abroad the radiance of her life and giving a light helpful to three generations. Her life was a benediction to many, and can you forget her face framed at the door or window thru all these years—a face lighted by its kindly interest in her friends. Because of her long, long life in this community I doubt if there is any other woman who has given out so much light.

"A volume could be penned about her thoughtfulness for others. Her interest was not confined to relatives. It reached out beyond her home, her children and grandchildren. A nephew was taken into her home and raised as a son. The needy found in her a generous friend and her interests and beneficence had indeed wide boundaries.

"So as a crowning characteristic we consider her life as a mother. And what name on earth is there so sweet as mother? It is linked with all the best in this world and reaches out into the world beyond. On the table in Mrs. Bancroft's room rests her Bible, with many of its passages marked and just above it on the wall is a framed tribute from her son, those familiar lines of tribute to mother which close with the thought:

"Ye who find a friendship like mother's, Unbroken till death calls, and life's work is done."

"So today our dear friend has passed on. She is at home and we hear today the sweet cadence of Heaven, the rejoicing of the glad reunion of those who have gone on before with the saint who has only just now left us for a little while. And today as we turn back in memory and in appreciation dwell on the beauty and strength of this life, we know that Mrs. Bancroft has not lived in vain—that many there are who today call her blessed, and that her final hour came the words of the Psalmist were in her heart and no doubt upon her lips: 'And I shall dwell in the house of the Lord forever.'"

The message from Dr. R. O. Post read as follows:

My Dear Mrs. Weir:

Your telegram just received and replied to.

To minister unto you dear friends would be satisfactory to my heart, and to speak the word of appreciation would be a high privilege. Still, being a victim of the scourging influenza necessitates my tarrying at home.

The quality of the loving loyalty which your entire family gave me and mine will ever be esteemed a precious treasure, while your mother's type of the thoroughbred, as you know, was ever my admiration, and it would be a privilege indeed to lay the forget-me-nots of love upon her casket.

With deepest love and sympathy for you and Bert, as ever I have been,

Your loving friend,

Roswell O. Post.

Connecticut, Ohio.

October 15, 1918.

The flowers included remembrances from the Ladies' Aid Society of the Congregational church, Wednesday class, Woman's club and from friends of Horace H. Bancroft in the office of the state centennial commission.

So Mrs. Bancroft after a life full of fruitful years, has been laid to rest in Diamond Grove cemetery, leaving to her family and friends a rich heritage of memory.

GUARDING HEALTH AT ILLINOIS COLLEGE

Rigid Inspection Methods Followed Daily—No Case of Influenza Thus Far—Two Homes Offered as Hospitals If Need Comes—Public Urged to Refrain from Visit to Campus.

Thus far the students at Illinois college have been remarkably free from the "Spanish flu." There are no cases whatever among the men of the student army training corps and while a few of the other students are out of school on accounts of colds, no positive case of influenza has been reported. The military authorities are of course taking every precaution to safeguard the health of the men in the army unit, and President Rammelkamp, after a conference with Miss Coale, the supervising nurse, instituted a plan for a daily inspection of all the other students.

All the men who are not enlisted in the S. A. T. C. will report daily to Professor Potter for examination, and the women will report daily to Professor Smith and Mrs. Ogden head of Academy Hall. Any student showing symptoms of a cold will at once be excluded from classes.

Mrs. George E. Myers of Grove street has generously offered to the college her home and her services as nurse in case the epidemic should break out among the soldiers. Mr. and Mrs. Edward W. Brown of West State have also very generously offered the use of their comfortable home in case of need. Both the college and military authorities appreciate the offers of these friends.

President Rammelkamp requests that for the present all persons who have no definite business which takes them to the college remain off the campus. This request applies especially to young people who are now shut out of the public schools. Parents should instruct their children not to go to the Illinois college campus.

Mrs. J. Herman has had several letters from her nephew, Harry S. Co. D. 343d Infantry, Camp Greiner in England. He said he was writing in a Y hut and while he was there an Amo can came in and played some home airs and the boys went wild and rent the air with their cheers and singing declaring it was good to hear something of the sort from home. He was in a rest camp and had much to say of the lovely English homes, the gardens, flowers and all else. He had great praise for the work of the Red Cross, which he said was simply superb and of immense use to the boys in khaki. The boys were organizing a base ball club which would help amuse a good many. He had done considerable sight-seeing and greatly enjoyed it.

FORMER RESIDENTS VISITED RELATIVES

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hull returned to New Jersey Home After Visit in White Hall—Liberty Loan Campaign Stowing Up—Pike County Couple Married.

White Hall, Oct. 15.—Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hull started Tuesday on their return to Jersey City, New Jersey, after spending a fortnight with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Hull. Harry is now regular in service as a locomotive engineer on the Pennsylvania lines out of Jersey City, a six-track road.

Miss Emma Harvey expects to go to Kansas City soon to spend a time with two brothers, one of whom is Frank Harvey, until recently located on a farm west of White Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Worcester are here from Wood River to remain until the lifting of the influenza quarantine, which as necessitated the closing of the theater at that point.

Frank King has about recovered from quite a severe illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dunphy

have returned from their trip to Los Angeles, and have contributed their part to the influenza epidemic, both having had the ailment.

The force at the local post-office was depleted the first of the week because of illness. Charles, son of Claude Morrow, is seriously ill with lung trouble. Earl Liming is an influenza victim.

Mrs. Frank Gosnell is expected home from Arlington, Kansas, the last of the week. Mrs. Woodson Tanner will remain with her sister, Mrs. F. A. Brooks, who has improved to some extent.

The diminution of the influenza epidemic, it is believed, will enable the quarantine to be lifted locally in another week if the weather remains favorable.

The general apathy toward the Fourth Liberty Loan campaign, occasioned by peace prospects and the influenza epidemic, is in evidence locally. The Greene county workers are willing to push sales with all vigor, but their efforts are curtailed by the quarantine.

The Greene county quota is $1,290,000, which seems to be excessive in comparison with other counties. For instance the quota for Morgan county is $1,740,000, and that of Scott county $300,000. The sum will be fully subscribed in Greene county, and White Hall will come forward with its full quota of $313,000 if not over-subscribed. About seventy percent is the average of the subscriptions over the county thus far, some districts going above their quota and others falling short. Greenfield, Rockbridge and Hillview are showing up splendidly, and Carrollton is prepared to handle its share of approximately half a million. Roodhouse will fall short as usual because of the solicitation among the railroad employees by the company depriving that city of its showing, as has been formerly the case, although the Roodhouse showing will be better this time in proportion to the former showing, as many of the railroad men are determined to give the city the credit by buying bonds of the banks there instead of from the railroads. Really Roodhouse is just as loyal as any other community in the county if not more so, but all subscriptions taken by the railroad company deprive Roodhouse of that much credit, although it is credited with all sales by the railroads in the county. The campaign will end on the 18th, and Louis Lowenstein of White Hall, chairman for Greene county, sees the county meeting its quota in full, which prediction was voiced today by Carson T. Metcalf of Greenfield one of the leading county workers.

Pike County Couple Married Here.
The wedding of Clyde Colard, a business man of Nebo, and Miss Maude A. Bradburn, until recently cashier of the Minier State Bank of Nebo, took place at 11:30 Tuesday at the home of the parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. O. N. Bradburn, on West Bridgeport street in White Hall. The ring ceremony was used, the precious memento being carried on a bouquet of roses and carnations by Miss Goldie Wall of Nebo. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Leo Howard, pastor of the White Hall Methodist church. In the presence of only the members of the immediate families, and it was a very pretty event, uniting two substantial and highly respected families of Nebo and White Hall. A feast as sumptuous as the restrictions of Herbert Hoover would permit was ready following the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. A. Wall were present from Nebo and Mrs. Goldie Gentle from Vandalia, Mo.

The couple left on the afternoon Burlington train for St. Louis for a brief wedding trip before returning to their new home at Nebo, where their return is awaited with congratulations by friends who are numbered by the scores. The bride has been connected with the Minier State Bank of Nebo for a number of years, and on the coming of her parents to White Hall about four years ago she retained her banking connections there, but has been a frequent visitor to White Hall, where she is held in high regard.

The Best Cough Syrup
Is Home-made

Here's An Easy Way to Save $2, and Yet have the Best Cough Remedy You Ever Tried.

You've probably heard of this well known plan of making cough syrup at home. But have you ever used it? When you do, you will understand why thousands of families, the world over, feel that they could hardly keep house without it. It's simple and cheap but the way it takes hold of a cough will quickly earn it a permanent place in your home.

Into a pint bottle, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup to fill up the pint. Or, if desired, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, never spoils and gives you a full pint of better cough remedy than you could buy ready-made for three times its cost.

It is really wonderful how quickly this home-made remedy conquers a cough—usually in 24 hours or less. It seems to penetrate through every air passage, loosens a dry, hoarse or tight cough, lifts the phlegm, heals the membranes, and gives almost immediate relief. Splendid for throat tickle, hoarseness, croup, bronchitis and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations for throat and chest ailments.

Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.—Adv.

A SUCCESSFUL REMEDY

All things succeed which really deserve to, — which fill a real need, which prove their worth. The fact that the famous old root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, has been relieving women of this country from the worst forms of female ills and has won such a strong place in our American homes proves its merit beyond the question of a doubt. It will well pay any woman who is in need of such a medicine to try it.—Adv.

FEW CENTS DESTROYS YOUR DANDRUFF AND STOPS FALLING HAIR

Save Your Hair! Make it Thick, Wavy and Beautiful—Try This.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf.

There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine tonight—now—any time, will surely save your hair.

Get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and after the first application your hair will take on that life, lustre and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and fluffy and have the appearance of abundance, an incomparable gloss and softness; but what will please you most will be after just a few weeks' use, when you will actually see a lot of fine, downy hair—new hair—growing all over the scalp.—Adv.

WITH THE COLORS

From H. A. Hoover.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hoover of 316 East College street are in receipt of the following letter from their son, H. A. Hoover, of Co. A, 50th Engineers, A. E. F.; Sept. 11, 1918.

Dear Mother and Father:

Will write a letter this evening, as you have been waiting so long for one. I am feeling fine and am still in the officers' mess. I like the work fine, as I do all the buying for the mess. It is some job to make these French people understand what you want, but I think I am doing real well with this French lingo. I go to the French market every morning and you should see them there. But Saturday is the big market and they have everything from wooden shoes to live goats.

I only wish you and father could see this country here, as it is worth the while of anyone to visit it. You never see a horse and buggy, all you see are small mules and carts. There are no frame houses or brick ones, all of them are of stone and rock. And the streets are so narrow that in some of them the people have to walk in the road.

Albert Hosan is here, and although he is not in my company I see him almost every day. It has been rainy here the past four days and fall is coming on now, but I will have a good warm place to work this winter if we stay here. I don't want you to worry about me because I am doing fine and feeling great. Am saving money and have $90 and about $50 in the bank here, so you see a fellow can save money on $30 a month. We do not use American money over here, it is all French money. It was hard to get on to it at first but it is old now.

Now write as often as you can, as your mail will get here sooner than mine will get there. And if you have to wait sometimes, don't get worried, for I am all right. I like it fine here but I do not think we will be over here very long. I am going to send you some papers that we get here, New York and Chicago papers printed in Paris, all in English. We get them every day but the Stars and Stripes we get every Friday.

Will close for this time and will write you again soon. With love, I am,

Your son,
H. A. Hoover.

The Actual Cost of this War Can Never be Computed

—But we know this much, that it costs one million dollars a meal to feed the American soldiers and sailors now under arms. What will it mean to feed them next year when the new army gets into line?

—America's daily expenditure right now is fifty million dollars a day—over eighteen billion a year—next year it will be more.

—This tremendous expenditure is necessary if we are to win this war and make what we have safe and valuable.

CHARLES DEVLIN IS KILLED IN ACTION

Private Charles Devlin of the medical department was killed in action in France on September 17. This sad news was received by his mother, Mrs. Catherine Devlin, 503 East College street, Wednesday morning. The message was from Washington and read as follows:

Washington, D. C., October 16, 1918, 1 p. m.
Mrs. Catherine Devlin,
503 East State Street,
Jacksonville, Illinois.

Deeply regret to inform you that Private Charles Devlin, Medical department, officially reported as killed in action September 17.

Harris, Adjutant General, Charles Devlin was inducted into service and sent to Camp Dix, N. J., April 30. He was assigned to the medical department and sailed for France, July 6.

Deceased was the son of Mrs. Catherine Devlin and was born in this city December 19, 1893. He attended the parochial schools and learned the cigarmakers trade.

He was employed at the McCarthy-Gebert factory at the time he was inducted into service. Besides his widowed mother he is survived by one brother, John Devlin and five sisters, Mrs. John Flannigan, Miss Rose Devlin, Mrs. M. D. Heffernan, Miss Alice Devlin and Miss Clara Devlin.

Charles Devlin was a young man of genial disposition and a great favorite with his associates. He was a member of the Church of Our Savior, The Knights of Columbus, M. W. A. and Cigar Makers Union No. 114. News of his death will be received with sorrow but will be a source of gratification to his family and friends that death came serving his country in a glorious cause.

Private Devlin's death was the first to occur among the employees of the McCarthy-Gebert factory, who have entered the service.

FIRE WEDNESDAY NIGHT.

The fire department was called to the Larkin property on North Mainvalter street, occupied by Thomas Tiven at 8:30 o'clock Wednesday night. The property belongs to the Degen estate. Fire had in some manner started in the attic of the one story part of the dwelling and spread to the roof of the Martin woodwork shop adjacent which faces on East North street. The flames were soon controlled but Chief Hunt estimates the loss to the Degen property at about $200 and that on the Martin shop and contents at about $500. Both losses are fully covered by insurance.

FIGHTING THE BATTLES.

Apparently the busiest spot around the square Wednesday afternoon was that in front of the window of the Farmer's State bank. In the window is a large map of the European war zone, the location of the various armies being shown by the nation's flags. After reading the daily telegraphic reports, the positions shown upon the map become clearer and doubly interesting.

VISITORS FROM SPRINGFIELD

Misses Louise and Jeanette Sutton of 620 West Edwards street, Springfield were a portion of an auto party from the capital city to this place yesterday. They toured the city and while of course, found it lacking much that pertains to their own home still they were much pleased with what they saw. They were very pleasant, affable young ladies whom it was a pleasure to meet and they had no hesitation in commending all desired information regarding their trip and opinions of the Athens of the West.

Miss Bertha Whitlock helped represent Murrayville in the city yesterday.

MRS. WHITEHEAD DIED AT DENVER HOME

Deceased Lived in Jacksonville in Earlier Years—Daughter of Dr. D. L. Townsend.

Mrs. William H. Whitehead died in Denver, Colorado, on Oct. 7th, after a few weeks illness. As Miss Josephine Townsend she lived in Jacksonville, when her father, the late Rev. Dr. I. L. Townsend was rector of Trinity church in 1868-71. She was a teacher for a time in the Presbyterian Academy under Dr. Thayer.

In 1876 she was married in Washington, D. C., to Wm. H. Whitehead, a lawyer of Bloomington, Illinois, and at one time editor of the Bloomington Pantagraph. The wedding was in the Church of the Incarnation, of which her father was rector, as well as being chaplain of the Forty-fourth—the Centennial—Congress. Some years later Mr. and Mrs. Whitehead removed from Bloomington to Golden, Colorado, where for a time he was a banker, and also county judge.

A few years ago they moved to Denver. Her husband and two daughters, Misses Lucretia F. and Josephine W. Whitehead survive Mrs. Whitehead. Her sister, Mrs. Walter M. Wilson and brother, S. W. Townsend, live in Brooklyn, N. Y. The interment was in Golden, Colo., where her oldest child, Henry, is buried. Mrs. Whitehead's physician in Denver is the same who was the family's physician in Jacksonville forty-five years ago—Dr. James P. Willard. Mrs. Whitehead was very active in church work, and was a member of that notable parish, St. Marks', Denver.

A FAMOUS TURKEY CASE

A good many people of the vicinity of Nortonville were in the city yesterday attracted by a famous turkey case.

Jeff Lemons and Jesse Vedder own adjoining farms the residences are not very near. One day Vedder passed Lemons' place and saw 24 turkeys penned up and immediately laid claim to them. Hot words ensued and Vedder gave Lemons a thrashing and then went before a squire, pleaded guilty to assault and battery and paid his fine.

The next move was to replevin the turkeys which he did and suit was brought yesterday morning before a city justice but later withdrawn and taken to the November term of the circuit court and meanwhile the fowls are in the custody of the Nortonville constable.

It is rather curious as each man lays claim to the birds and offers certain marks and other identifications.

Attorneys are familiar with the famous Iowa calf case in which two farmers went to law over a calf and each expended some $3,000 to have his own way and this may be of the same nature.

NOT THE OLDEST SOCIETY

Editor Journal:
In an article in a recent issue of the Courier, an account was given of the Ladies Educational Society of Jacksonville—established in 1833, and the statement was made that it "was the oldest organization in the United States."

Will you allow me to correct that statement? In 1804 in Concord, New Hampshire, Mrs. Elizabeth McFarland, wife of Rev. Asa McFarland, D. D. pastor of the First Congregational church of that town organized a woman's missionary society, called the N. H. Cent Institution—any woman becoming a member by the payment of a cent a week for missions.

Within five years of its organization, reports from fifteen towns in the state showed contributions amounting to two hundred and five dollars. At the present time thousands of dollars go thru the treasurer's hands annually.

In 1812 Mrs. McFarland also organized the Concord Female Charitable society, for benevolent work in the town, which is still doing fine work, with a large membership.

Mrs. McFarland was the mother of the late Dr. Andrew McFarland of Oak Lawn, and grandmother of Mr. George C. Guthrie.

REPAIRS ON

EAST STATE STREET
The Jacksonville Railway and Light Company has a force of men at work repairing the pavement in East State street where it was torn up for the laying of gas mains. Ever since he has been in office, Commissioner White has kept at the matter of doing something to remedy conditions in East State street. Evidently his efforts have born fruit and the street will be placed in passable condition again.

BACK FROM TENNESSEE

Norman Dewees has returned from a trip to Tennessee where he went in the interests of a land deal. He found conditions generally good down there; crops fair and people prosperous. There is more or less influenza but strange to say the colored people seem to be also immune in the region he visited. The cases too seem generally to be mild with few complications.

JED COX PASSED AWAY WEDNESDAY

One of County's Best Known Young Men—Had Been Ill of Pneumonia for Several Days.

Jeremiah Gordon Cox, better known to almost every citizen in the county as "Jed" Cox, died at his home six miles northeast of Jacksonville Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock of pneumonia after an illness of about ten days.

Mr. Cox made a trip to Chicago about two weeks ago and was ill when he returned home. His illness developed into pneumonia and for several days his death has been expected the he made a brave fight for life.

Jeremiah G. Cox was the son of Jeremiah and Isabelle McMillen Cox and was born on the home place August 14, 1882, being at the time of death 36 years, 2 months and 2 days old.

He was united in marriage in Jacksonville on December 3, 1906 to Miss Zella Savage who survives him together with one daughter Frances. He also leaves his mother and the following sisters and brothers: Mrs. Edgar Cully, Charles Hardin Cox, James Earl Cox, Mrs. John M. Butler and Miss Florence Allene Cox, all of this city and vicinity. Mrs. J. E. Decker of Chicago and Mrs. Earl Hill of Des Moines, Iowa, Jerry Cox, father of the deceased and a city commissioner, died August 25.

Mr. Cox was a young man who had won an enviable name for himself not only in this county but throughout this entire section. While he followed the occupation of farming, Mr. Cox was better known as an auctioneer, beginning that vocation in partnership with his father when quite a young man.

He was most popular as a crier of sales and during the fall and spring months was largely occupied with that work. Mr. Cox was devoted to his home and in all his private and public affairs was known as an upright and honorable citizen. He was a member of the Masonic fraternity.

Cut down in the prime of life his death will be a great loss to the community. To his bereaved family the sympathy of all will go out in this hour of sorrow.

Funeral services will be held at Jacksonville cemetery Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock in charge of the Rev. F. M. Crabtree of White Hall. Rev. Myron L. Pontius will assist in the services if he arrives home in time.

Back the soldiers at the front; buy liberty bonds and help win the war. It's your plain, patriotic duty.

GETTING READY FOR THE NEEDS OF THE SICK

A force of Red Cross and others were at work yesterday in the open air school building getting it ready for cases of illness which need hospital care and cannot be admitted to the other hospitals which are full. The school room will hold 36 cots which will care for that many patients and will be a great help in handling the epidemic should they be needed. Yesterday 48 dinners were sent out to those needing them and Rev. W. E. Collins is carefully looking after all cases of need and seeing they are cared for in an intelligent manner. He is constantly at work and rendering most valuable service. The canteen girls and boy scouts will act as messengers to convey the supplies to those needing them and everything will be done in a careful, systematic manner.

It is expected that the furnace from the Sprague homestead will be put in place today in the school room of the open air hospital. The opening has been closed and as the windows can be raised and lowered at will it will make an ideal place for an emergency hospital. It is the intention when one in a family is ill to take that one out and thus lessen the danger to the others. In this way all possible effort will be made to conserve the welfare of the ill and those needing accommodation and it is hoped that by extra care and precaution the dread disease will be held measurably in check.

OVER SEAS CHRISTMAS PARCELS

All friends of over-seas men should give their names to the branch of the Red Cross in their section, as cartons will be distributed and inspected at local branches and full information and Government Rules will be available. All persons receiving boxes must present army label issued to the men in France, by their Officers and this label must be pasted on carton before it will be accepted for mailing. This will be done by specially appointed inspectors. Local branches will be supplied with plenty of cartons. Everybody present their labels as fast as they receive them.
